

Five Must-Have Items to Celebrate the Spring Equinox

BY CARLOS LACAYO | FASHION, NEWS | MARCH 20, 2015

Spring is finally here! In a couple of weeks, you can hang up the heavy coats and begin your search for lighter clothes to wear. As with all seasons, there are some items that are simply essential, so here are a few pieces that will be key to staying stylish as things start to heat up and the days get longer.

strap-its

strap-its are the brainchild of Julie Karlitz, who was inspired to make them when she spotted her teenage daughter going out in outfits that showed her boring old bra straps. Yearning to find a sophisticated way for people to bare their straps, Karlitz created a detachable bra strap that hooks in to any strapless or convertible bra and allows anyone of any age, to change their look from day to night in seconds. With 25 styles and colors available, including nail heads (silver, black, gold, copper, red, white), skulls (silver, black, pink), zebra (black, pink, purple, olive, lime green, fuchsia), python, cheetah and camouflage, you can mix and match your straps to complement any ensemble. There's no reason to not choose one for every look with prices starting at just $15.
